DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 9 and 17 are objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s) or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form.
2. Claims 14 and 15 are objected to because of the following informalities: the claims should read upon the wire claimed in the independent claim not a wire. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 4, 5, and 8-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sachdeva et al. (5,312,247). Sachdeva et al. disclose an apparatus comprising a wire 14 fabricated from superelastic material or shaped memory alloy (column 5 line 16) comprising a first end, a second end 16 and a substantially planar body extending therebetween, the body having a substantially uniform thickness and movable between a static position and a an activated position, wherein the body is stretched between the first and second end, the first end comprising a first fastener configured to couple to an orthodontic fixture coupled to an outer surface of a tooth and capable of coupling to a tooth that is partially impacted, the second end comprising a second fastener configured to couple to an anchoring device and secure the apparatus relative to the tooth, such that the wire applies substantially continuous force to the tooth as the body moves from the activated position to the static position capable of erupting an impacted tooth. The body is sinusoidal shaped (figure 9). The first end is configured to couple to the tooth without circumscribing the tooth. The apparatus has a substantially uniform thickness between the ends. The body comprises a spring extending between the first and second ends (column 5 line 67). The apparatus further comprises an orthodontic fixture 20.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 11-16 and 18 are allowed; however, note that the form of claims 14 and 15 have been objected to above.

6. Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed April 5, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The apparatus of a wire of Sachdeva et al. comprises the claimed structural elements of the rejected claims. The first and second ends of Sachdeva et al. can be called and function as first and second fasteners as it attaches to fixtures on teeth. A recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. Also, it is noted that the claimed apparatus is for facilitating treatment or treating a tooth that is at least partially impacted and the erupted tooth of the prior art may be “partially” impacted since it is being repositioned.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
